HOME & CORPORATE AUTOMATION • ALLAV.com

The Future is Now!

ALL AV specializes in the design and installation of home automation systems, high-end custom home theaters, and state-of-the-art corporate conference rooms.

We bring the future to you today.

Disney's "House of the Future," built in 1957, was supposed to envision typical life in 1985. This magical automated home was more science fiction than reality at the time, featuring such novelties as hands-free telephones, wall-sized TVs, microwave ovens and intercoms with mini-TV screens. It may have taken a few more years to get there, but that promise of an automated home is now possible with today's technology.

ALL AV leverages the power of today's technology to allow complex integrated video and audio systems to work in concert. We strive to provide solutions that not only work right, but look great too. Our systems are built around intuitive programming, and our installation seamlessly hides all the messy wiring in order to blend neatly and attractively into the home or office design.

Our roots go back to 1975, when we began repairing and installing TVs and stereos and servicing every type of electronics throughout Northern Virginia and the greater Washington D.C. area. Today, we bring our years of audio and visual knowledge to provide our clients with technological solutions to make their lives easier. With over 600 different brands of electronics, you have got to know your business. We're experts in identifying the very best equipment and in designing solutions to meet our clients' needs.

We have built our business on quality service, and providing honest, superior service at a fair price. As much as 80 percent of our business is referred by existing customers and their recommendations. We pride ourselves on our reputation, and look forward to providing quality service our clients can rely on.

What We Do

Residential

From the latest in movies and television shows to big sporting events, or kids' video games — a luxurious media room can be the center gathering place in the home. Choosing the right equipment is just the first step in setting up a home theater the family will love.

Corporate

In today's business environment, communication is king. Video walls and conference room solutions can make a dramatic impact in promoting services to potential clients and providing state-of-the-art training for sales teams, executives and support staff.

Retail

These days, shoppers expect an engaging shopping experience. Retail digital signage and professional audio give stores an edge over the competition by driving consistent brand image, helping increase revenue and keeping marketing costs under control.

Home Automation

Imagine being able to control the audio, televisions, telephones, window shades, and cameras in your home — including your thermostats and energy use — all on an easy-to-use and intuitive Apple iPad® touchscreen. This is technology you can enjoy!

New Construction

Building a new home comes with many worries, but wiring doesn't have to be one of them. We offer prewire services for new construction and work with contractors so that your new home or office is custom wired for your current needs — and also ready for any future growth.

Whole House Audio

Fill your home with music. Imagine speakers throughout your home carrying your favorite music as you move from room to room. We install only high-end in-wall and ceiling speakers and control amplifiers, to create unique multi-zone audio systems.
